

Simplify Your Expanded Volatiles Analysis with Restek's New 131 Compound MegaMix Standards Kit

Restek's new VOC MegaMix 131 Kit helps you overcome the hassle and frustration of sourcing volatile reference standards. Optimized for stability and performance and containing the most comprehensive offering of volatiles in a single kit, this convenient VOC MegaMix takes care of the time-consuming work for you in sourcing the standards you need.

- Single kit comprised of 131 compounds commonly analyzed in volatiles testing, reducing sample prep time and variability.
- High analyte concentration allows for flexibility in constructing calibration solutions.
- Two independent lots available to meet your quality control requirements.
- Useful for EPA 8260 or other volatiles analyses.
